

Kidspace at MASS MoCA

December Break Art Classes, 2007

Explore childhood fears and memories in Richard Criddle's autobiographical exhibition It's Rude To Stare, which features large-scale sculptures, collages, and drawings. Participate in art classes that link to this fantastical Kidspace exhibit.

Mr. Goodbody's House of Potions

Wednesday December 26th 10:00-11:30am

Ages 3-12

Join us for some Mad Scientist art making! Create paint, goo, slime and other magical creations with which you'll be able to make art and play with at home.

Magical Memory Pop-Up Books

Thursday December 27th 10:00-11:30am

Ages 7-17

Learn how to make many different styles of pop-ups books! Bring your own photos to create collages or tell a story in your book.

Magical Memory Pop-Up Books- FOR ADULTS!

Thursday December 27th 6:00-8:00pm

Don't let the kids have all the fun! Come learn how to make a variety of pop-up books to house your photos or tell a story. A great workshop for teachers, parents or anyone looking to let their artistic side out for the night! Remember to bring your own photos.

Fantastical Face Your Fears New Year's Hats

Monday December 31st 10:00-11:30am

Ages 3-12

Come to our annual New Year's Eve hat making class! Afraid of spiders? The dentist? Heights? Create a magical hat to help you combat your fears as you ring in the New Year.

There is a $5 per person materials fee for each art class. Space is limited so register early! Call Kidspace at 413-664-4481 ext. 8131 or email at kidspace@massmoca.org.

DECEMBER HOLIDAY PUBLIC HOURS: Kidspace will be open during the break everyday from 12 to 4pm (December 22 – 31, except for Christmas Day). Admission to Kidspace during public hours is free, although, donations are gladly accepted.

Kidspace is a collaborative project of the Clark Art Institute, Williams College Museum of Art, and MASS MoCA. Art classes are funded in part by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Hearst Foundation.